DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1,2,5-8,10-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being fully met by Manabe (USP 5300725).

Regarding Claims 6,8, Manabe discloses an apparatus for reproducing a presentation provided by transmitted signals, the apparatus comprising a digital radio (Col. 2 lines 35-39), the digital radio programmed to separate (Fig. 1, item 12) signals of a selected instrument 14 from transmitted signals ("audio signals") by selectively filtering the transmitted signals (Fig. 4); an automatic selected instrument 14 adapted to be activated by electrical control signals; an interface unit / amplifiers¹³ for reformatting the separate signals into the control signals, and speakers 14.

Regarding Claim 1, Manabe (as applied above) discloses a digital radio (Col. 2 lines 35-39) to receive the audio data, a digital radio inherently comprising a demodulator coupled to a receiving unit, the demodulator operable to receive a selected intermediate radio broadcast signal (Fig. 4) from the receiving unit and to demodulate the intermediate radio broadcast signal to form an audio performance (MIDI data).

Applicant argues that Manabe does not filter the MIDI data from the received signal. However, the automatic playing apparatus 12 does separate the audio signals from the instrument signals (previously, both signals are combined and being transferred as shown in Fig. 4). This separation of the signals reads on the claimed selective filtering. Applicant argues that the received signal of Manabe is not an audio signal. However, the signal is an audio signal as it has audio information in it.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
